NUMB. 404.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From SATURDAY November 14, to SATURDAY November 21, 1741.

LONDON, Auguſt 11.

Extract of a Letter from on board the Argyle Man of War, July 21, at Anchor under the Iſles of Bayonne.

BEING order'd by Sir John Norris to look into Ferrol, Corunna and Rodondello, the Bays between Cape Prior and Hercules Tower, we perform'd it in 4 Days, and took a Spaniſh Brigantine, and put four more on ſhore. In our Return ſpoke with a Portugueze; ſhe came the Night before out of Camirina, and left there a Sloop from New-England, carried in by a Privateer. On the 17th we got off the Harbour of Camirina, and ſent our Boats in; on ſight of them the Sloop run on ſhore, being Ebb-Tide, but after a ſharp Diſpute, in which we had one Man killed, we boarded and took her; but not being able to get her away, burnt her. The 18th we met a Portugueze on board which we found a Pilot: The Portugueze told us there was no Ship at Vigo, but at Rodondello there was one very rich, with Bale Goods from London, and three or four more Veſſels brought in Prizes. We ſent immediately for the Gibraltar and Grampus, and came to a Reſolution, at all Events, for Rodondello. At Day-light having taken this Portugueze Pilot, and it proving calm, in the Morning we ſaw a Bark about 40 Tons, and one about 30: We attack'd them with our Boats, took the largeſt, and put the other aſhore, and ſet her on Fire: This diſcover'd us to the whole Country, and prevented our Project of running up with French Colours. About ten came in a freſh Sea-Breeze: We weigh'd, and with Engliſh Colours proceeded up the River, having given Orders to take no Notice of Vigo, but puſh on; accordingly at four in the Afternoon we got into the Harbour or Baſon of Rodondello, and anchor'd within Piſtol-ſhot of the Veſſels, and took them all, being four, viz. the Portugueze Ship with Bale Goods, a Brigantine from Carolina with Rice, and a Brigantine and a Snow with Coals: And tho' they had cut ſome of the Cables, and run aground, we got them all off, and by twelve at Night under our Sterns. The Portugueze and the two Colliers were unrigg'd, and no Sails on board, but theſe Deficiencies we ſupplied, and got them all ready to ſail by ten next Morning, and at Noon, the Wind coming up Northerly, weigh'd, and with our five Prizes got to anchor here at eight laſt Night. We ſhall diſpatch them tolerably equipp'd, under Convoy of the Gibraltar and Grampus for Oporto, this Afternoon, to be diſpos'd of; and we in the Argyle to join Sir John Norris.

LONDON, Auguſt 18. Orders, we hear, are iſſued out from the War-Office, commanding the Officers of all the Regiments, both on the Britiſh and Iriſh Eſtabliſhments, to compleat their Corps with all poſſible Expedition.

The Thunder and Lightning Bomb-Ketches are order'd to be victualled with all poſſible Expedition; after which they'll ſoon take in their Mortars.

Auguſt 20. Letters from Lisbon adviſe, that a Man of War belonging to Admiral Haddock's Squadron, has lately ſunk a Spaniſh Privateer of great Force, off that Port: Part of the Crew was ſaved, and carried into the above Port.

They write from Lisbon, that the African Pyrates infeſt their Coaſts to ſuch a Degree, that there was no Fiſh in their Markets one Day, the Fiſhermen being afraid to venture out of the River to catch them.

Auguſt 22. Beſides what Men of War are building in his Majeſty's Yards, there are at preſent Two Ships of 60 Guns, Two of 50, Four of 40, two of 20, and two Sloops building in the Merchants Yards for the ſervice of the Government.

Two of the Bomb-Ketches have already taken in their Mortars, and fallen down to the Galleons. The other two expect a Command every Hour to the ſame Purpoſe.

LONDON,

August 13. By several Letters from Cadiz, which came in the French Mail, we are inform'd that Admiral Haddock has been lately reinforc'd by Twelve of War, supposed to be Part of Sir John Norris's Squadron; the Spaniards had thereupon haul'd up all their Men of War that were in the Harbour, and made all necessary Preparations to guard a Bombardment, which they expected immediately.

All the Cannon design'd for Jamaica by the next Fleet of Transports is shipp'd, twenty Pieces whereof are Brass, some of which weigh near three Tons.

Some private Letters from Hamburgh hint an extraordinary Piece of News, viz. that not without Foundation, it was suspected a Treaty had been some Time negociating, and was almost at the Point of Conclusion, between the Crowns of Sweden and Denmark.

August 20. From Amsterdam our Letters advise, that their East India is in no small Pain for their homeward-bound Ships, on a Jealousy that the 8 Danish Men of War mention'd some Time since, might be looking out for 'em. They add, that they were not altogether free from the Apprehensions of a Rupture between Denmark and their High Mightinesses.

August 22. By private Advices from Holland we are inform'd, that the States have really built Twelve Men of War of the Line: And that Orders have been given to put their whole Fleet in the best Condition possible.

I think if ever, 'then was the Time that all manner of Evil was spoke a-'gainst me falsely for Christ's Sake. The Commissary 'seem'd to ransack Church History for Instances of Enthu-'siasm and abused Grace; he drew a Parallel between me 'and all the Montanists, Ranters, Quakers, French Pro-'phets, 'till he came down to a Family of the Dutarts, 'who lived (not many Years ago) in South Carolina, and 'were guilty of the most notorious Incests and Murders.
